

WELKOM TO BAR/BRASSERIE DE WIT

When Klaas van der Valk fell head over heels for her refreshing blue eyes, her enthusiasm and sense of humour, Corry de Wit of Texel became Corry van der Valk of motorway restaurant de Biltsche Hoek. The couple tied the knot in 1951 after which, in 1956, Klaas and Corry had set their sights on the old, dilapidated Biltsche Hoek on the road from Utrecht to Amersfoort. Unfortunately, Klaas van der Valk passed away at the young age of 44, bringing Corry to take over the operations of the hotel. And although the grief of her husband and care of nine children, Corry managed to turn the business into an even bigger success. In May 2017, the family knew a great loss when Corry van der Valk-de Wit passed away at the age of 90. And as a tribute to Corry de Wit, the family has named the Bar of Hotel Groningen-Hoogkerk after her maiden name: de Wit.

Enjoy your meal!
